Before the President.

The World's Fair Bill Ready for His Signature.

SENATE AMENDMENT ACTED ON.

The House Then Goes Into Committee of the Whole on Appropriation Bills.
Proceedings of the Senate—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The house yesterday concurred in the senate amendments to the world's fair bill, and spent the rest of the day in discussing the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

Mr. Candler, of Massachusetts, moved that the house concur in the senate amendments to the world's fair bill, which being agreed to, the bill goes to the president for his action.

The house went into committee of the whole on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

Mr. Butterworth explained the provisions of the bill, saying that in some of the departments there was substantially a civil pension list, old employees who had faithfully served the government being retained in their position although they were of little service. The committee on appropriations had allowed an increase of the clerical service of the civil service commissioners, as requested by the committee.

Mr. Dockery, of Missouri, criticized the increase in the number of government employees, which in many instances should not have been made at this time. He believed if there was new blood in the departments, 1,500 clerks could be discharged at a saving of $1,500,000. Instead of carrying on an unprofitable investigation, let the committee take into consideration the inefficiency of the clerical force of the departments.

Mr. Allen, of Mississippi, quoted from a speech delivered by Mr. Cannon, declaring that the Republican party was devoted to the country, and would administer the government with greater economy. Since the 4th of March, 1889, it had been impossible for Mr. Allen to keep up with his Republican friends when he met them on the street in their wild rush to the departments to get offices and show their devotion to the country.

Mr. Bland, of Missouri, discussed the monetary question, and spoke in favor of the unlimited coinage of silver and characterized the Windom bill as a demoralizing measure. He wanted to raise the question from the degradation of a party caucus and bring it before the house. If this was not done, let the responsibility rest on the secretary of the treasury, who assumed to frame a bill and to tell the country that if that bill were not passed there should be silver legislation.

Mr. Connor, of Illinois, replied to Mr. Dockery's criticism, and defended the bill.

Mr. Williams, of Illinois, criticized the Republicans of the house for not bringing in a bill for the settlement of the silver question, and thus releasing the oppressed people of the country.

Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, said that at the proper time the Republican side of the house would bring in a silver bill which would be satisfactory to the people.

Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, defended the civil service law and resented it being called a humbug or a fraud. It was not un-American and un-Republican.

Mr. Washington, of Tennessee, criticized the administration of the civil service law, declaring that the law was juggled with.

Mr. Kerr said that President Harrison's administration was standing fairly up to the civil service law.

Mr. Dunnell, of Minnesota, moved to strike out the appropriation of $21,780 for clerks for senators.

Pending a vote on this the committee rose and the house, at 5:10, adjourned.

Proceedings of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The senate passed the most of the day in discussing the District of Columbia appropriation bill.

Mr. Cockrell offered a resolution which was agreed to, directing the superintendent of the census to furnish to the senate copies of the forms, rules and regulations adopted by him for obtaining statistics as to farm mortgages.

Mr. Mitchell made a long speech in favor of his proposed constitutional amendment for the election of senators by the people. During the course of his speech he declared that the secrecy of executive sessions was no longer in harmony with the spirit of the age. Public opinion would, at no distant day, break down and destroy the doors of secret executive sessions. Such sessions were a relic of monarchy, and should find no recognition in a republic.

The senate then took up the District of Columbia appropriation bill, which was discussed and passed.

Mr. Morrill, from the conference committee on the Zoological park in Washington, reported a disagreement on the house amendment requiring half of the expense to be paid by the District of Columbia, and moved that the senate recede from its position. The motion was agreed to and the bill now goes to the president for his signature.

The senate, at 5:55 p. m., adjourned.

Pension for Deafness.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The house committee on invalid pensions has authorized a favorable report on the senate bill increasing the rate of pensions for certain cases of deafness. The bill provides that any soldier, sailor or marine who served in the war of rebellion and contracted disease resulting in total deafness of both ears, shall be entitled to receive a pension of $40 per month, and for severe deafness of both ears, approximating total deafness shall receive an equitable proportion of the full pension; the degree approximating total deafness to be determined by the secretary of the interior. The bill has passed the senate.

Eight-Hour Law Introduced.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Representative Caldwell, of Ohio, yesterday introduced a bill constraining the act constituting eight hours a day's work for laborers employed by the government to apply to all persons employed on work done by the government.

Diplomatic and Consular Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The diplomatic and consular appropriation bill was reported to the house yesterday from the committee on foreign affairs by Mr. Hitt, of Illinois. The amount appropriated by the bill is $1,490,935. Of this sum the new appropriations amount to $24,000. The amount appropriated by the diplomatic and consular bill last year was $1,880,035, and this included the Samoan appropriation of $500,000.

Laws That Separate Man and Wife.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The treasury department has declined to allow the wife and four children of Mr. Quong Lee, a Chinese resident of this country, to land in this country, holding that the law excludes them unless a certificate is presented from the Chinese government that they are simply tourists, and will, after seeing this country, return to China.

Retired With the Rank of Major General.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The president sent to the senate yesterday the following nomination: John C. Fremont, of New York, to be a major general of the United States army on the retired list.

GROWING WORSE.

A Number of Levees Give Way Along the Mississippi River.

NEW ORLEANS, April 23.—At 3 p. m. Governor Nichols received from Bayou Sara an appeal for a boat to save the people. The dispatch said that unless help arrived there might be great loss of life. A steamer and barges were at once sent from Baton Rouge, and other boats will be sent.

The wind and rain storm proved too much for the Bayou Sara levees. There are numerous crevasses, and the upper (old) Morgansea levee is broken.

Governor Nichols has telegraphed Senator Gibson that the breaking of the Morgansea levee is so great a disaster that he feels justified in appealing for prompt National aid.

A break occurred yesterday in the left bank near Gardere, ten miles below Baton Rouge. Two crevasses occurred yesterday in the Atchafalaya levee, one above and one below West Melville. The water is running over the levees all along that section.

The protection levee in front of Vidalia broke yesterday, and many houses are submerged. This is the first break in the Natchez district.

The Lake Concordia levee gave way yesterday. The lower portion of Concordia parish will be flooded, and great damage must ensue.

The lake water which had encroached on the outskirts of New Orleans is steadily receding.

The washouts along the Louisville and Nashville railway have been repaired and trains are passing as usual.

The Times-Democrat's Bayou Sara special says: The suffering in Pointe Coupee is terrible. It is reported that people are resorting to trees for safety. Skiffools of people are passing through the streets seeking safety on the hills. They make a sad and gloomy procession, men, women and babies. The situation here is frightful. Not a house in town is above the floods.

End of an End on Pow Wow.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 23.—A Tribune special from Pierre, S. Dak., says: The Indian pow wow, which began Sunday on Bat river, did not adjourn until last night. John Grass, Red Cloud, Sitting Bull were present, and also a portion of Big Foot's band in their war paint. Col. Lounsburg spoke in behalf of the government. Chief Grass urged the Indians to take land in severalty. He was interrupted by Big Foot, who with his band, rode through the gathering, firing their guns. They were quelled by the Indians police. With the exception of the hostiles the Indians agreed to accept lands in severalty.

A Labor Leader Drowned.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 23.—John Bodenniller, business manager of The Labor Signal, and well known throughout the state on account of his efforts in behalf of organized labor, was drowned in the canal while boating yesterday afternoon. A sudden gush of wind capsize the boat, and becoming entangled in the ropes of the sails he was unable to extricate himself.

Fire at Knightsville, Ind.

BRAZIL, Ind., April 23.—For the third time in three years the business portion of Knightsville, two miles east of here, has been burned. The principal loser is D. H. Davis, on general store, residence and saloon. Loss, $35,000; insurance light.

Will Enforce Eight Hours.

BOSTON, April 23.—The mass meeting of carpenters last night adopted resolutions not to work over eight hours a day after May 1. The situation at the Squire packing house is unchanged.

Now Will Sullivan Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—The California Athletic club last night voted to make the Sullivan-Jackson purse $30,000. The fight is not expected to take place before September.

Two Men Drowned.

ELMHURST, N. Y., April 23.—John Bokman and Elisha Dyer, of Hammondsport, were drowned off Two Mile Point, Keuka Lake, last night.

Rioting in Chicago.

Non-Union Men Attacked By the Strikers.

A BRIEF BUT FIERCE FIGHT.

One of the Non-Union Men and a Police Sergeant Badly Beaten—Fifty of the Bioters Arrested—Labor Troubles Elsewhere.

CHICAGO, April 23.—Yesterday a number of non-union carpenters went to work on some half-finished cottages near Fifty-third and Wallace streets. Shortly after a crowd of union carpenters appeared and attempted to induce them to leave their work. They were deaf to all argument. About 11 o'clock the crowd had increased to nearly one hundred men and they attempted to force the union men to quit. One of them resisted and was badly beaten.

At this juncture Sergt. Beogley, who lives near, saw the commotion, went to the scene and attempted to arrest the fighting strikers. They at once turned on him, and he also was badly beaten with clubs and stones. During the fight the police station had been notified, and a patrol wagon with eight officers was dispatched to the scene.

By the time they arrived the strikers were in flight. The police pursued them and succeeded in capturing about twenty of them, who were marched to the station at Englewood and locked up. Sergeant Bigley was found to be badly injured, and was taken to his home. The non-union men were put back to work, and are now guarded by the police. The greatest excitement prevails, and more trouble is feared.

The arbitration committee from the new Boss Carpenters' association met the conference committee of the striking carpenters in the afternoon. A thorough canvass of the situation showed that all parties are agreed that the carpenter's strike can be quickly brought to a termination when the membership of the Boss association is so far increased that they hold a balance of power among the builders and bosses of this city. To this end the committee on arbitration invite the other associations of carpenters, bosses and builders to unite with them in the settlement of the question.

An Address to Wage-Workers.

NEW YORK, April 23.—The American Federation of Labor has issued an address to the wage-workers and sympathizers with progress of America, requesting all but the carpenters and joiners to refrain from taking action to secure concessions until the first great struggle has been won. Then contributions will be needed in order to secure the success of the carpenters and joiners, which trade has been selected to make the first demand for the enforcement of the eight hour day, May 1.

If all trades strike it will mean defeat for all, or at best only temporary advantage. Contributions from all are solicited, and if the fund raised is not needed for the carpenters it will be devoted to aiding in the next trade which is selected to demand the concessions. Sympathizers, who are not actual wage-workers, are also invited to contribute. It was hoped that the ample notice given the apparent justice of the demand, and the peaceable method of its presentation would have caused the concessions to be gracefully yielded, but the hostile attitude of the boss builders at Chicago and Indianapolis is evidence that the employers intend to make a stubborn resistance.

In view of this, the workingmen must stand all the closer together and concentrate their efforts as above recommended. Contributions should be sent to Christopher Evans, secretary of the federation, No. 21 Clinton Place, New York.

The address is signed by Samuel Gompers, president; William Martin, first vice president; P. J. McGuire, second vice president, and Henry Emrich, treasurer.

The Pittsburgh Trouble.

PITTSBURGH, April 23.—Yesterday a committee of employees called on Superintendent Turner, of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis railroad. They represented the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen also, and left a petition for the consideration of the Pennsylvania company officials. The new list of grievances requests that ten hours or less be considered a day, five hours or less a half a day; all overtime to be paid for on the same basis. The pay asked is: Day conductors, $2.75; day brakemen, $2.50; night conductors, $2.90; night brakemen, $2.70; one hour to be allowed for dinner; no crew to work shorthanded or be expected to cool or sand an engine. The committee will not insist on any other concessions. S. E. Wilkinson, grand master of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, said he did not believe there would be any trouble in adjusting the difference. "In any event a strike will be resorted to only after every other means has failed."

Indianapolis Strike Settled.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 23.—The carpenters' strike was settled to the satisfaction of everybody concerned at a conference yesterday afternoon between committees of the strikers and the bosses. The contractors conceded the eight hour day, and made an agreement to hold good for one year, to pay competent carpenters and joiners thirty cents an hour. The original demand of the strikers was thirty-five cents an hour, although they had only been getting from twenty to twenty-five cents. About 500 men resumed work this morning.

Extending into Canada.

MONTREAL, April 23.—A mass meeting of workingmen has been called by the Knights of Labor for Saturday evening to encourage the eight-hour movement. Great interest is taken by the labor organizations as to progress of the movement in the states. The Canadian workmen have undertaken to contribute largely to the support of the workmen of the United States during the coming struggle, which will commence on May 1 for an eight-hour day, and as soon as they have succeeded, then the Canadian carpenters will take their turn in the strike.

Building at a Standstill.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 23.—The striking carpenters remain firm in their determination to make the contractors yield to their demands for eight hours. The bricklayers and plasterers are also out and building in this city is almost at a standstill.

HOME FROM THE WAR.

Lexington's Soldiers Return from Harlan County—A Talk with Lieut. Gaines.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 23.—Lexington was happy last night. At half past 7 her soldier boys, who have been in Harlan county for the past six weeks, arrived home safe and well. They were accompanied by James and Berry Howard, relative of the notorious Wils Howard.

They are deputy sheriffs of Harlan, and had in charge a big, strapping young fellow named Tom Baker, who is convicted of horse stealing, and gets two years in the penitentiary. They put their prisoner in jail and went to a hotel. James seems to think the war is all over, and says he feels much better than when he was here last summer, shortly after the big fight between Wils and the officers.

In an interview with Lieut. Gaines, of Frankfort, who has been acting adjutant in the Harlan campaign, he said: "We had a first-class time. Both the Turner and Howard factions have the greatest respect for the soldiers. Our men quelled several difficulties between the factions. Those mountain feuds, I am sure, have their beginning in drunken brawls."

"When sober the average mountaineer is peaceable, but let him get half drunk, and he is a veritable demon. I don't think peace will ever be assured in Harlan until outsiders go there and enforce the law. The members of one faction will never submit to the authority of officers composed of friends of their enemies."

"The sooner the governor realizes this the better it will be, I think. No, we never had the least bit of trouble. The Howards and Turners appeared to vie with each other in their good treatment of the soldiers. There never was the least sign of a fight, and I am at a great loss as to how such reports started."

William Jennings was taken to Stanford and he was put in jail. He has obtained a change of venue to Laurel county in the case of murder for killing John Bailey.

DRIVEN TO DEATH.

Lula Sims, of New Albany, Drowns Herself to Escape Her Stepfather's Abuse.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., April 23.—On Thursday, 17th inst., Lula Sims aged 14 years, was missing from her home in this city. Yesterday, such facts were developed as to leave no doubt that she suicided by drowning in the Ohio river.

Her mother, Mrs. Josephine Ashworth, called at police headquarters, and made the following statement: "On Thursday last my daughter, Lula, left home with a basket filled with small boxes blueing for use in washing clothes. She peddled this blueing to assist in making a living for the family, as my husband does but little work on account of poor health. She returned in the evening, and meeting a friend remarked she was afraid when she went home her stepfather would whip her because she had sold but little of the blueing."

"Instead of going home she went to the residence of Mrs. Killing, an acquaintance, and asked to leave her basket till the next day, remarking, 'I may never call for it, for I am so tired of living.' The girl, on leaving Mrs. Killing, who lives on water street, was seen to walk directly down to the river. She has not been seen since. Yesterday afternoon tracks, as if made by a woman or girl's shoe, were found in the mud on the river bank below the foot of West front street, to which point Lula Sims was walking the last time she was seen."

"The locality is retired and covered with tall, dead weeds. It is believed by her mother that rather than go home after her unsuccessful day's labor to receive the abuse of her stepfather, she committed suicide by plunging into the river. She was quite a bright girl, but very timid and sensitive, and very small for her age."

Two Different Stories.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 23.—About 12:30 yesterday morning Lizzie Dear, a handsome girl of 23, was walking with Joseph Kearney, son of William Kearney, the brewer, when she drew a revolver and shot him twice in the head. He was found to be dangerously injured. Kearney has been keeping company with the Dear girl for some time, and it is supposed she shot him on account of jealousy of another girl. Miss Dear, who was found about 1 o'clock apparently asleep at her home, denied having met Kearney since last Thursday, and declares that she did not shoot him. Kearney in his ante-mortem statement swears that she did the shooting.

The Wedding Stopped.

SALISBURY, Md., April 23.—Henry Leralette, a jeweler who formerly resided here, and Miss Victoria Wright were standing at the altar of a church about to be married yesterday when an old lady rushed in and handed the minister a letter, which was read aloud. It proved to be from the wife of Leralette, who resides with her three children at Mappsburg, Va. When the minister finished reading the letter the would-be bride fell in a swoon, and Leralette left the church and disappeared.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 23, 1890.

It is rather strange that the Chicago Tribune, one of the leading Republican papers in the country, is bitterly opposed to the McKinley Tariff bill.

CARRY the news to Mr. McKinley. A special on Monday says:

"The Tiffin Woolen Mills, one of the largest textile fabric manufactories in Northeastern Ohio, has closed down indefinitely. Mr. W. W. Waugh, the Superintendent, assigns the tariff as the reason for the suspension."

With sixty per cent. of the woolen looms of the country already idle and such reports as the above coming in, the Republicans set to work to raise the tariff on wool still higher than it has been for years. And still they profess to want to protect the industries of the country.

A YEAR ago the Democrats had the majority of Supervisors in only seventeen counties in New York while the Republicans controlled thirty-six Boards and three were tied. Now the County Boards in that State stand, Democratic twenty-eight, Republican twenty-four and four evenly divided.

Complete returns from the election in the Empire State a month or so ago show that the Democrats elected 543 Supervisors and the Republicans 565. Last year the Republicans had 668 of these officials and the Democrats only 442. The transfer of 101 votes in the Boards of Supervisors is a Democratic gain of 10 per cent. in a single year.

Democracy seems to be flourishing all over the land.

FIXING UP THE COURTS

To Carry Out Senator Sherman's Plot Against Suffrage.

One of the most radical and most dangerous measures of the present revolutionary Congress was on April 15 put through the House of Representatives under whip and spur by the operation of Reed's revolutionary rules, the Speaker "counting a quorum."

Debate was absolutely cut off, and an act was passed to add eighteen life Judges to the United States Judiciary and transform the whole Federal judicial system, without any friends of the measure explaining it or any of its opponents being permitted to say a word about it.

The measure thus "railroaded" through the House is one of the most important considered in any recent Congress. It withdraws all original jurisdiction from the Circuit Courts and places it exclusively in the District Courts, the Circuit Courts becoming purely tribunals of error and appeal. Cases heretofore transferable from State courts into Circuit Courts are hereafter to go originally to the district tribunals, thus substantially placing the original jurisdiction of the United States under the control of a set of new appointees from one political party only.

Aside from its partisan operation, the question we raise is not as to the merit or demerit of the proposed reconstruction to the judicial system. It is whether so grave and far-reaching a change should be considered decently and in order, or be forced through Congress without consideration by a combination of brutality and trickery heretofore unknown in our legislative annals. The country will know all about this scheme before its final passage, and its abettors will have reason to rue their attempt to gerrymander the Federal Judiciary.

It is to be remembered that under the operation of the proposed Congressional election laws the appointment of election officers would be vested in the United States Judges. Harrison's eighteen new political Judges would straightway become the principal agents of the Federal Government and the Republican party in administering the election laws within all the States. This is one of the ways in which the plan to gerrymander the Judiciary enters into the great Republican scheme to maintain the minority party in power by extraordinary means, no matter how infamous and revolutionary.—New York Star.

Mr. Miller's Lecture.

Mr. Editor: The Board of Education, I understand, have invited Dr. Jahu DeWitt Miller to deliver a lecture here on the 1st of May. This is a movement in the right direction. The Board should be commended for their liberal ideas. Few exercises are more enjoyable by a cultivated people, and certainly few will stimulate our youth to more laudable efforts, or turn them into a purer channel of enjoyment. In the days of the demoralizing circus, let us all turn out and patronize this pure and elevating entertainment.

PULASKI.

Newspaper Correspondents' Prerogatives.

Editor of the Bulletin: Your correspondent "Unus Populi," is too general and sweeping in regard to other "newspaper correspondents" in stigmatizing them as a race of "slandrers," and as "men who scruple at nothing, so that gain and notoriety may be achieved." That there are men of this description among them cannot be gainsaid; and the same is true of every other profession and walk in life. But it is unjust and unfair to instance "Gath" as a type of the class. Few of them have the talents or the versatility of Townsends; still fewer are as mean and unscrupulous. It is true that the privacy and domestic life of public men should be held and treated as being as sacred as that of any other citizen; and that a man's being a candidate for or an incumbent of a public office gives to no one the privilege of intrusion upon that privacy; but with comparatively few dishonorable exceptions, who are held in as great contempt by the fraternity themselves as by the public at large, this privacy receives as much proper respect from newspaper correspondents as it does from the average citizen. In fact, those correspondents are less impudently inquisitive, and less impudently intrusive and meddlesome and officious, than the average woman of society or the street corner male gossip.

But, what is the privacy of a public man? And what his domestic life? There must be a line somewhere at which what is sacred from public inspection and comment ceases, and that which is a legitimate topic of conversation, inquiry and comment commences. Without occupying your space by a detailed discussion of the point, I may safely assert that no one who has not self respect and a sufficient regard for the opinions of others, to endeavor to conceal his own vices and to withdraw his immoralities from the public gaze, but boldly and unblushingly flaunts them under the public nostril, has a right to claim exemption from public criticism when he becomes a candidate for a place of trust and confidence, on the ground that such criticism would be a violation of his privacy. At the same time such criticism should never be made as the expression of individual malice, nor for a partisan advantage; but, if at all, solely in the public interest and when demanded by the public welfare. The correspondent who, in such a matter, would denounce in one whom he disliked what he would suppress in one to whom he had no ill will; or the editor who would be governed and controlled by considerations of party, in such a matter, would be unworthy of his position.

Last Monday was a model day. Everybody was busy making garden and preparing the ground for planting. The season is at least six weeks later than usual.

An Ohio tobacco man has been visiting our farmers for several days and has bought several crops of tobacco at fair prices. Don't let the golden opportunity pass.

What a great pity everybody cannot be pleased with a little town election. We ought to view it in this light, everybody vote just as I do (as they please). A free country and a free fight.

The horse show came off last Saturday. Had a good show and a large crowd. Among the most prominent visitors were A. R. Burgess and Mr. McKibben from Maysville. They dined at the Stonewall House.

Mr. Kirkpatrick, of a marble firm of Cincinnati, has erected a massive monument to the memory of Robert Bedford in our cemetery. It weighs twenty-four thousand pounds and cost eleven hundred dollars. It was completed last Friday and adds much to the appearance of the cemetery.

The sad news of the sudden demise of our old friend, Col. John W. Watson, cast another gloom over our little village. He did business here for several years and had a host of friends who deeply sympathize with the bereaved family. One by one our old friends are passing away. The election Saturday passed off very quietly—not much excitement. Our candidate Judge Dora was beaten by Judge Bradford by a very small majority—less than seventy. He carried this precinct with seventy majority, Bradford receiving only eight votes.

Dr. Peck, the family physician, stitched the fingers on, but mortification set in and on Tuesday morning he had to amputate the fingers. The boy is getting along well from last accounts.

IN MEMORIAM.

John G. Bacon died Saturday morning, April 12, 1890. He was born June 28, 1838. The full period of Mr. Bacon's life was spent in Mason County.

Though a person without ostentation or pretension, he was a man of intelligence and benign influence. Educational advantages at Washington, Ky., in its palmy days, and also in Centre College at Danville had trained his mind, not only for the duties of life, but also for the study of literature and refined knowledge. He was a gentleman born, and his culture added ease and dignity to his bearing. His sincere nature, kindly heart and genial manner won him a wide circle of friends and a host of acquaintances. He was the very soul of honor. His integrity was of common report. As a citizen there was none more loyal. He was devoted to the leading and best interests of his State. He loved his country, and cherished its institutions. In the relation of neighbor, he was kind and liberal; as a companion, he was genial; as a friend, true and generous. In the capacity of husband and father, he was affectionate, affectionate and devoted; always diligent in the pursuit of those things which brought comfort and well-being to his family. The ministrations of his fond wife and loving children in his last illness are a fitting tribute to his domestic relations. His life went out in their hands in his commodious and attractive home which overlooks the banks of the beautiful Ohio. Tranquil river! May its peaceful bosom be emblematical of the river of death calmed for the transit of this spirit whose voyage is for the shores eternal.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Furnished by Glover & Durrett, proprietors Louisville Tobacco Warehouse. Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 2,933 hhds., with receipts for the same period of 1,185 hhds. Sales on our market since January 1 amount to 45,172 hhds. Sales on our market up to this date of the crop of 1889 amount to 35,941 hhds.

Our market during this week has remained very firm and active on the good grades of barley tobacco, both old and new, but the offerings in the main have been of inferior quality, with a considerable per cent. of soft and tunked tobacco among the new, and this character of tobacco shows some weakness. All of the warehouses on our market are now having regular action sales and are wrought with the confusion which followed the tornado.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for barley tobacco, crop of 1889: Trash (dark) or damaged tobacco.....$ 1 50@3 50 Colory trash.....3 50@ 7 50 Common lugs, not colory.....4 40@ 5 51 Colory lugs.....7 00@ 10 00 Common leaf.....7 50@ 9 00 Medium to good leaf.....9 50@ 13 00 Good to fine fillers.....13 00@ 18 00 Select or wraperv leaf.....18 00@ 26 50

LITTLE MRS.

«ABBOTT»

THE GEORGIA MAGNETIC MARVEL.

Weights only 93 pounds, but four men cannot lift her. Can lift 1,500 pounds without physical or mechanical effort. Two strong men cannot draw a stick through her hands. By placing her fingers on the floor she will raise two men from the floor. Standing upon one foot it will be impossible for two men to throw her off her balance. Lifts a whole baseball nine at once. Mrs. Abbott, by placing the palms of her hands into those of a ten-year-old boy's hands, transfers the mysterious power to him and no two men can lift him from the floor. Challenges the strongest athletes to raise her from the floor. Many feats equally inexplicable. Prices, 25 35 and 50c. Matinee Prices, 15 and 25c.

The House passed 110 local bills Monday. There is no let up in such legislation.

The Frazee bill to facilitate the collecpanies passed the Senate Monday.

 his indebtedness on notes, accounts, etc.

Representative Brown wants "each county to pay $15 of the cost of keeping and supporting each pauper idiot in that county," and has introduced a bill to carry out his ideas on the subject.

Senator Huff, of Fleming County, made an effort Monday to withdraw from the House the bill to charter the Cincinnati and Southeastern Railway Company, but the House declined to return the measure. The Senate had already passed the bill, and Mr. Huff wanted to get it out of the House and amend it so as to exempt Fleming and Rowan counties from the taxing clause.

Representative Blackerby introduced a bill this week to provide for an exhibi-

BRUSSELS FEASTING STANLEY.

The African Explorer Living Among Royalty—French Troops Have a Battle With the Dahomians—Archbishop Corrigan's Reception in Rome—Other Items.

BRUSSELS, April 23.—A complimentary fete in honor of Mr. Stanley was given on the bourse yesterday afternoon by the Society of Engineers. The king and the royal family were present, and took an active part in the festivities. The king delivered a speech, in which he spoke in eulogistic terms of Mr. Stanley's energy, which, he said, would result in opening up a new career for Belgium. He heartily wished for the success of all Belgian enterprises in the Congo State, especially the Congo railway, which he was assured would greatly assist to abolish slavery.

An address was presented to the king conveying an expression of the thanks of the community for the work which his majesty has done in Africa. The address was signed by 40,000 persons. King Leopold, in reply to the address, said he was grateful to the people that the day of Stanley's return had been chosen for the purpose of commending the achievements of Belgium in Africa. He dwelt upon the benefits of African colonization, as evidenced by the anxiety of other nations to establish themselves in that country. The king continued by expressing hope that the importance and prosperity of Africa would be further improved by Belgian efforts. "Your address, meeting my views," he concluded, "will be treasured as a precious souvenir."

Mr. Stanley was entertained by a garden party given in his honor on the grounds of the palace at Laeken yesterday evening. Fifteen hundred guests were present, including diplomats, senators, ministers, deputies and other notabilities.

United States Minister Terrel, will today give a dinner to Mr. Stanley and his party. The Congo committee will give a ball in honor of Stanley and he will also be entertained at luncheon by the Anti-Slavery society.

Dr. Parke maintains that Emin Pasha has a cataract on each eye.

Archbishop Corrigan in Rome.

LONDON, April 23.—Archbishop Corrigan's reception in Rome has been more than cordial. All the church dignitaries from Pope Leo down have united in doing him honor, and his treatment is regarded as significant of the growing importance of the Catholic church in the United States. In contributions to the support of the holy see North America is already ahead of Spain, Portugal, Ireland and other Catholic countries, and very close to South America. It is rumored that Archbishop Corrigan may have another call to Rome ere long to receive the cardinal's hat. His course in the McGlynn difficulties is understood to have received the complete sanction of the holy see.

Report of a Battle.

PARIS, April 23.—The Temps says that 350 French troops who were engaged in reconnoitering the Dahoman position seven kilometers out from Porto Novo, where the King of Dahomey, with the main body of his army is encamped, were compelled to give the enemy battle. After a severe engagement the French were obliged to fall back on Porto Novo with a loss in killed and wounded of thirty French soldiers and twenty native allies. The Dahoman loss was heavy.

President Carnot's Trip.

AJACCIO, Corsica, April 23.—Upon his arrival here yesterday President Carnot was greeted by a number of ladies, who welcomed him by performing the Corsican ceremony of strewing his path with rice and corn. During the day the president visited the birthplace of Napoleon I. From here Mr. Carnot goes to Bastia, where he will inspect the fortifications, and visit the large tanneries and other industries established there.

POWDER MILL BLOWN UP.

Heavy Explosions at Nagaunee, Mich., and Much Damage Done.

MARQUETTE, Mich., April 23.—The mill of the Anthony Powder company, at Nagaunee, caught fire yesterday evening and blew up, shortly after 9 o'clock, shocking the whole of Marquette county. Twenty minutes later there was another heavy explosion of powder thrown out by the first. The fire was scattered in all directions.

The shock in this city, eleven miles distant, was severe, while in Nagaunee store fronts were blown in. Special police are on duty to protect the stocks. No one was killed. The night watchman usually on duty at the mill was let go two days ago. The loss cannot be estimated at present, but will be heavy.

Railroad Extending.

FINDLAY, O., April 23.—A number of Findlay capitalists are purchasing the American Midland railroad stock, and will complete the road to Fort Wayne, Ind., to become part of Carnegie's plan to reach Chicago with his Pittsburg, Akron and Western railroad.

UNDOUBTEDLY ALL DEAD.

Thirty Men Imprisoned in a Burning Mine.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 23.—Thirty men are now imprisoned in the Rock Springs coal mine, No. 4, which is on fire, and it is almost certain that all are dead. The mine was discovered to be on fire at 10 o'clock, and when the flames began to spread rapidly, the men were ordered to the surface. They had hardly begun to issue from the shaft's mouth when an explosion occurred. A searching party to go to the rescue of the men below had just disappeared when another explosion occurred, followed by three others in rapid succession. Seven of the searchers were injured, one past recovery.

A dozen more volunteers descended and brought up six insensible Chinamen, two of whom died in a few minutes. They saw the ten other Chinamen lying prostrate. Smoke began to issue in a large volume from all the entrances, and further attempts to save the men imprisoned below were abandoned. There are still at least thirty men in the mine, most Chinese. All the entrances to the mine have been closed in order to keep the fire within certain bounds.

The Last Cyclone Victim.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 23.—The seventy-fourth and very probably the last victim of the cyclone was added to the list yesterday, when William Goode died at the city hospital. Goode was in the Jewel lodge rooms of the Falls City hall when that structure fell. He was one among several who were to have been initiated that night. A delay of a few seconds would have made him a member of the Knights of Honor and have entitled him to a life insurance of $2,000.

Promiscuous Shooting.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 23.—The town of McCormick, Abbeville county, was intensely excited yesterday by a difficulty between Town Marshal Jennings and P. B. Calhoun, a druggist, who had been fined for selling whisky. The two men exchanged shots, and the fusillade was continued by four others. The result was a number of flesh wounds, none of them mortal.

A Double Tragedy.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 23.—A double tragedy occurred at Hesperia, Newaygo county, a small village, sixty miles northwest of this city and ten miles from Fremont Centre, the nearest railway station, yesterday. Samuel Nelson, aged 22, shot and killed Anna Nelson, aged 16, while on her way to school, and then killed himself. They were not relatives though of the same name. Samuel was considered the accepted lover of Anna. The tragedy was the result of a quarrel between their parents and the dismissal of the young man when he called upon his sweetheart last Sunday night.

Shot in the Back.

PORTLAND, Me., April 23.—Yesterday while William M. Look, aged 20, was entering W. H.
